Ordinance Prepares Ground For Set-Back Ruling

ENABLING ACT PASSES FIRST CITY READING

Closing Of Dann, Rheem And Hellings Ordered By City Council

An enabling ordinance to pave the way for a set-back ordinance for the future widening of streets in Richmond passed its first reading before the city council last night. The action was taken on the recommendation of the city planning commission following its meeting yesterday afternoon when plans for the industrial artery were presented by Dr. Carol Aronovici, city planner.

Besides allowing for the widening of the industrial highway, this proposed set-back, in the opinion of the city planning commission, will eliminate "blind" intersections.

A recent ruling of the courts, W. T. Helms, secretary of the planning commission declared, empowers municipalities to require the construction of all buildings outside the business district a certain number of feet from the sidewalk line.

At present, only four blocks on either side of Tenth street in Richmond would hamper widening and Dr. Aronovici has estimated that the cost of arced buildings along this street would amount to only $50,000 or $60,000. The assessed valuation of the buildings is approximately $200,000.

PLANS DISCUSSED
Arcading would involve cutting back under the first floor of the buildings to the width of the new sidewalk to permit the widening of the street to the extent of the present width. The total cost of buildings to be condemned and moved from the county line into Oakland would be approximately $300,000.

Dr. Aronovici declared that 95 per cent of all property along the existing streets for widening and setbacks could be obtained without compensation, due to the enhancement of property values as a result of the boulevard construction.

OFFICIALS AT WORK
City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley, Superintendent of Streets, E. A. Hoffman and Dr. Aronovici are working on set-back plans and also zoning of multiple and single residence zones in the city, recommended by the commission.

It was his opinion that the business of the city of Richmond was in safe hands, and he desired to extend to the members a Merry Christmas.

The final draft of the new by-laws of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Contra Costa County will be submitted to the general membership at a dinner meeting next Friday evening, December 9th, at the Travelers' Hotel, Martinez.

MUCH ENLARGED

For the first time in the history of the county body, agricultural organizations will be eligible to membership in the organization.

The committee, preparing the by-laws, has also incorporated a paragraph setting forth that fifteen directors, representing as many different communities or districts in the county, shall constitute the governing body. In this manner county-wide significance is attached to each director and the voice of the county as a whole can speak through the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

ENCOURAGE GROWTH

The purposes and objects of the reorganized county body are to promote and encourage the business, agricultural and industrial development of Contra Costa county and to establish and maintain an unselfish and intelligent interest in the development and support of good highways, good streets, good schools, public parks, and other enterprises directly affecting the general good of Contra Costa county.

Fair Co-Ed

MARION DAVIES in a scene from "THE FAIR CO-ED," now being screened at the California Theatre.

MARION DAVIES IN MAJOR ROLE AT RICHMOND

There is not a film star who has worked harder, nor is more deserving of her success than Marion Davies.

Marion has reached the top after a lot of struggling and she shows evidences of remaining there by her skillful work in such starring vehicles as "The Fair Co-Ed," her latest production which opened yesterday at the California Theatre.

"The Fair Co-Ed," which was based on the stage play by Geo.
Ade and Gustav Luders, proves an excellent vehicle for Miss Davies.

She plays the role of the American co-ed as few, if any, others could have played it.

The story opens with Marion deciding she will not go to school at Gingham because the dean has issued a ban against student automobiles. When Johnny Mack Brown appears at her door peddling books to help defray his school expenses, Marion changes her mind and starts for the very school she had made up her mind never to attend.

The story then deals with the hilarious incidents familiar to all who have attended college. At the end of the picture Marion has almost wrecked the school, but she has won the heart of the boy and learned the value of loyalty to her college.

It is the first feature picture this writer remembers as dealing with college from a woman's angle—but it has been worth waiting for.

Johnny Mack Brown proves equally as good a film actor as he was football player when he was star halfback for Alabama.
This is his first lead but he has made the most of the grand opportunity offered him.

The picture has been skillfully directed by Sam Wood and a good cast of big screen names is seen in excellent support of Miss Davies.

Other features include "Sailor Beware," a Billy Dooley comedy;
"Tales of a Traveler"; "Topics of the Day"; and "Our Gang" Contest pictures.

Man Struck Down By Auto Badly Hurt

H. F. Jones of 2820 Esmond avenue was injured Sunday night when he was struck down by an automobile as he walked across the highway near the Standard Oil tank farm hill.

Jones sustained injuries to both hips, and lacerations about the head, face and body. He received treatment from Dr. L. Abbott Hedges at the Abbott Emergency hospital and was later removed to his home.

The automobile was driven by F. McBroom of 454 Forty-eighth street, Oakland, who was released following an investigation of the accident.

BIBLE FILM TO HAVE SHOWING AT CALIFORNIA

The largest cast ever assembled for a motion picture is that of
"After Six Days," the stupendous spectacle which comes to the Richmond Theatre for two days starting next Friday, which portrays the events of the Old Testament from Adam and Eve to the time of King Solomon. More than 600 principals alone were required to produce this marvelous feature film, while at one time and another during the five years it took to complete, over fifty thousand supernumeraries were used, to say nothing of a small army of technical workers of every variety.

The production cost in excess of $3,000,000.00, according to Weiss Brothers' Artclass Pictures Corporation, the sponsors for this massive attraction, and was photographed in the original locales in Palestine, Egypt, Mesopotamia and elsewhere in the Holy Land, called for in Biblical history.
More than two million feet of film exposed in filming it.

THE new Ford car has been on the market only a few days, but it has already created unusual interest throughout the country. Millions of people got the full details of it last week for the first time and were delighted with the story of its beauty, speed, comfort, safety and low price.

All day long and far into the night, great crowds gathered in hundreds of Ford salesrooms from Maine to Florida and from New York to San Francisco. Never has such interest been shown in a new car. Never has any new car so far exceeded expectations.

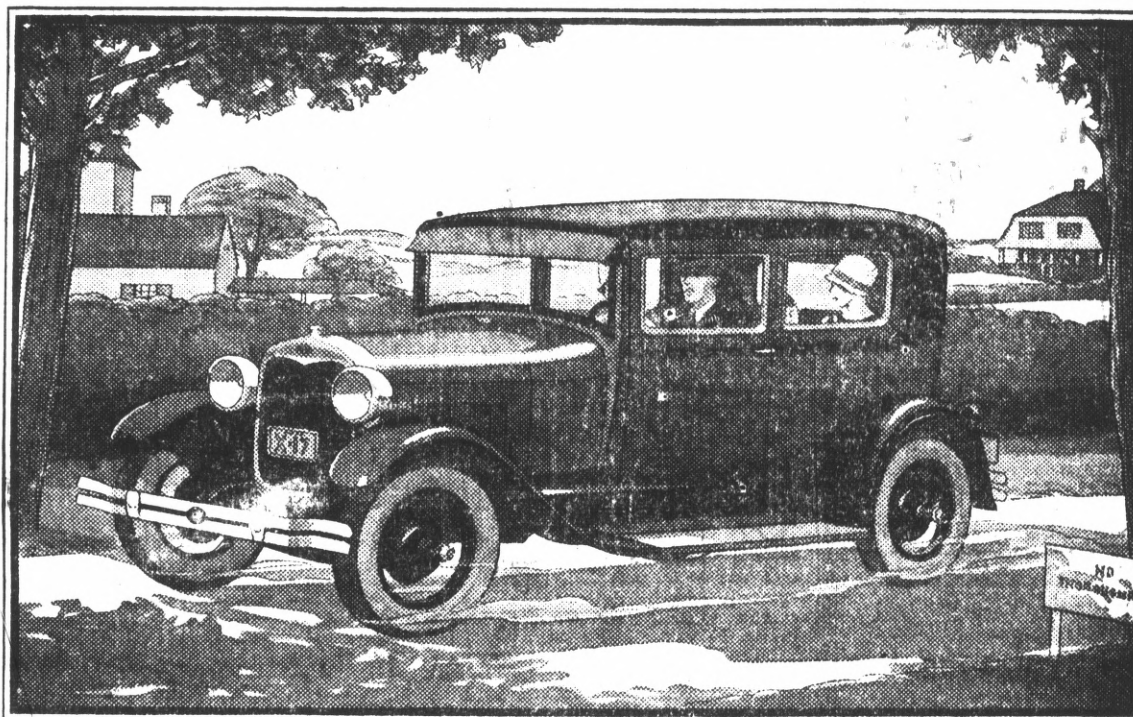

People knew that Ford was making a new car. They knew it was a good car. They had read announcements about it. But they had no idea it would be a car like this. Their quick appreciation of it is shown by the record-breaking sales.

Greatest day in the history of the automobile industry

Thousands upon thousands of orders for the new Ford car have been received since last Friday. These, and the advance orders placed with us by motorists even before the car was officially announced, will keep the entire Ford plant working day and night for weeks to come.

Such figures are a clear and unmistakable reflection of the value that has been built into the new Ford car. It is, without question, the outstanding purchase of all time in the light-car field.

car—ride in it—know the thrill of driving it easily and safely through thickest traffic or step it up to sixty and sixty-five on the open road, you cannot begin to appreciate the extent of the many mechanical improvements embodied in its construction.

It is difficult to believe that so much speed, power, beauty, quiet, comfort and safety can be had at such a low price. It would be impossible if this new car were made by anyone but Ford.

Only Ford could sell such a fine car at such a low price

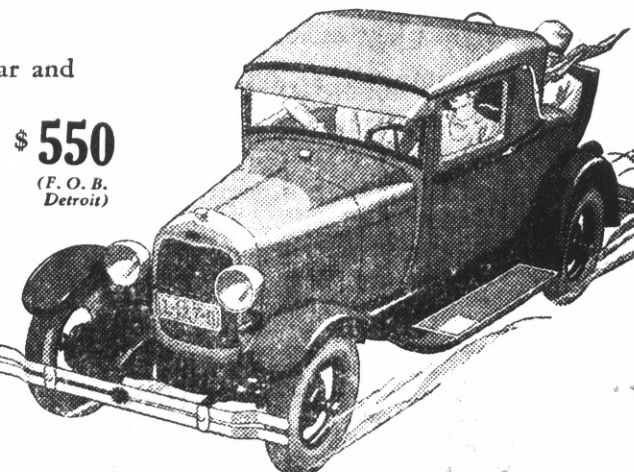

The low price of the new Ford car and its exceptional performance are the result of manufacturing practices and economies as unusual as the car itself. The new Ford is more than a new automobile. It is a new idea in modern, economical transportation.

By all means, take a little while today to learn about this new automobile. You will know that there is nothing quite like it anywhere in quality and price.

ALL-RICHMOND GAIN VICTORY OVER MISSION

The All-Richmond football eleven scored a victory in their game against the Missions of San Francisco at First Street Park Sunday afternoon.

Overcoming a 2 to 0 lead in the first three quarters of the game, Walker's men stepped out of it in the last quarter and when the whistle blew, the score was 19 to 2 for the local team.

Adcock, the new fullback of the team, was responsible for two of the touchdowns. Holland made the third on a received punt.

Snyder intercepted a punt and ran for 35 yards before he was downed and Walker, intercepted a pass for 25 yards gain.

In the line, Salisbury, Bonnevill and Heley were the outstanding players.

All in all, the All-Richmonds played their best brand of ball since their organization two months ago. They expect to finish the season without additional defeats.

Manager Walker has already asked for a game with another San Francisco team for next Sunday. The team selected will be announced later.

The lineup for the All-Richmonds in their game with the Missions was:

THE ALL-AMERICAN TEAMS OF 1927

You find, year after year, that there is an increasing unanimity of opinion in the selection of the All-American team, the mythical all-star team on which is grouped the outstanding players of the college gridiron.

Press services, polling the various sections and calling in leading coaches to aid them, are largely responsible for this.

Writers who have not seen great players of the East, Far West, Middle West, and South in action are guided by the expressed counsel of coaches like Tad Jones, Glenn Warner, Bill Roper, Chick Mehan and Knute Rockne.

In assembling my All-American, I have banked heavily on the opinion of the great coaches of the country. Oosterbaan and Born on ends; Hibbs and Kern at the tackles; Webster and Hanson at the guards; and Reitsch at center, make up a line that would even bring a smile to the face of Gummy Gil Doble if some enthusiastic alumnus endowed Cornell with a powerful forward wall.

Bob Zuppke frowning on the practice of picking an All-American team nevertheless states that Reitsch, his pivot man was one of the greatest he had ever coached.

Tad Jones pronounces Caldwell of Yale one of the greatest all-around backs of all time, and ranks Capt. Webster of Yale in the lists of Eli grid immortals.

There is no questioning the eligibility of Joesting, Minnesota's slashing fullback. The experts are unanimous in picking him.

You will find New York writers extremely timid in boosting Jack Connors for the quarterback position on the All-American. A prophet is not without honor save in his own country is the theory I suppose. Yet I fancy that Connors is as great a quarterback as there is in the land. I'll stick this fighting son of a gun from Exeter, N. H., right in with Caldwell, Gibby Welch and Joesting, and I'd bet a few dollars that Connors would enhance this great trio.

CHRISTY FLANAGAN ON SECOND TEAM

Second Team
L. E. Mooser, Princeton; L. T. Quierier, Yale; L. G. Baer, Michigan; C. Charlesworth, Yale; R. G. Smith, Notre Dame; R. T. Perry, West Point; R. E. Shiver, Georgia; Q. B. Drury, Southern California; L. H. B. Flanagan, Notre Dame; R. H. B. Marsters, Dartmouth; F. B. Amos, W. and J.

If there is any occasion for surprise in noting the various All-American selections, it is provided by the brusque dismissal from consideration of Christy Flanagan, a real star of the first water.

The boys have dropped Christy like a hot potato, disregarding his fine work against Navy, Georgia Tech, Southern California and Minnesota.

I can't subscribe to this sentiment. Give Flanagan a line to shield his operations and you will find him to be the same player who sent the experts into hosannas a year ago.

Amos, the W. and J. veteran, a player of splendid courage and rugged talent, can't be left out of the backfield here. Marsters, the Dartmouth flyer, and Drury, the Coast sensation, complete the quartet.

Mooser, the Princeton captain and end, whose magnificent play against Cornell, Ohio State and Yale stamped him as a typical Tiger product, would grace any line-up. Had his team been given a schedule worthy of its grits, Mooser could very easily have won a first team spot.

Shiver of Georgia is acclaimed as the cream of the wingmen below the Mason-Dixon line. He helped beat Yale in the one one reverse suffered by the Bulldogs of the north at the hands of the Bulldogs of old Gawgia.

In the opening game of the evening the Ben Malik team defeated the Richmond Union High School "pick-up" five 19 to 16.

It is needless to state here that all games were interesting. And it is quite needless to say that each team fought hard and fast.

In confirming the unconditional February rot to find Shawkey already on hand and a goal shape veteran southwaw, Ed. Borow, when the first rookies arrived, H. business manager of the Yanks, always went South a few weeks before the team, played golf and worked out by himself, and was able to stand the toughest sort of had been given his unconditional and when training got under way release as well, thus marking the beginning of his early conditioning.

His enthusiasm and perseverance were as great as that shown by any of the rookies, and the squad files accounted for him becoming one of the top-notch right-handers.

When he came to the Yanks in 1914, Co. Mac had given him up as a pitching prospect. The Huggins got him on waivers, and in the following year he turned around to win twenty-two games for the Yanks.

Winning twenty-two games for the Yanks back in those 1914 days, who a then wasn't any Ruth, Gehrig or Lazzeri, he was quite an achievement. Principally through his fine work, the Yanks just squeezed into the first division in that year, finishing fourth.

From then on he was the main stay of the Yankee pitching staff. After he returned from the war, and rejoined the Yankees under Miller Huggins, he won nineteen games in 1919, twenty in 1920, sixteen in 1921 and twenty again in 1922. Sam Jones, White Sox, called Joe Bush and Herb Pennock flanking Shawkey, gave the Yanks a really formidable mound crew in 1923, when they won their first world's championship by taking

Because of his long and valuable service to the Yanks, it was surprising to find Bob the Cob drawing his release from the Huggins. Latterly he has taken only a small part in the actual pennant campaigns, but he has taken a big part in the coaching of the younger pitchers, who have shouldered more of the pitching burdens that he, his enthusiasm, mild manner, patience and experience made him a hardy man for the job, and it was always believed that Bob could have stayed with the Yanks as long as he wanted to.

It is entirely possible that Shawkey got his release of his own request, like Walter Johnson, to accept another post of more benefit to him. Huggins always had a soft spot in his heart for Bob, as well as a deep respect for his ability.

It will seem strange when the Yanks go into spring training in

Four Ore. State Stars To Play On All West Team

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, CORVALLIS, Ore., Dec. 5.—Four football stars of this college today accepted invitations to play on the All-West team which will meet an All-East aggregation in San Francisco, December 26, for the benefit of the Shriner's hospital for crippled children.

The players who have wired their acceptance are: Dave Luby, fullback; Ole Robbins, end; Clare Badley, guard; and John Logan, end. All are senior members of the Oregon State college 1927 football squad.

Badley, Logan and Robbins have been honored on various All-Star Coast teams this year.

Four out of six games from the Giants.

In rejoining Shawkey and Ruth, Huggins is making clear his intention of building up a young pitching staff to go with his powerful team. Hoyt, Shorcher and Pennock give the Yanks plenty of veteran strength, while Wiley Moore will be able to take care of most of the relief duty. Pipiras is the only capable young pitcher Hug has at present though he is hoping that Miles Thomas, the little right hander, will find his 1926 form again.

In addition, the Yanks will have the usual assortment of young talent in the spring to pick from. Don Miller, a collegian from the University of Michigan, who traveled around with the Yanks last season, will be one of them.

El Cerrito Council Votes To Appropriate Money For Social Service Bureau Work

After much discussion, by the council of El Cerrito Monday night as to the El Cerrito Social Service Bureau being run in a business like manner, the council complied with the Bureau's request and appropriated seventy-five dollars for their work in the city.

Councilman Phil A. Lee stated that meetings of the Social Service Bureau were not held on the nights designated and special meetings were called with only a desired few being notified and he was not in favor of turning money over to an organization unless all the officers were notified of the meetings, so all could be present.

The vote on the appropriation was ayes, Councilmen Fred Lutz, Frank McDermott and George Conlon and noes, Councilman Phil A. Lee.

Application for a building permit to erect the Kentucky Stables, sandwich stand, at San Pablo avenue and Waldo avenue was laid over one week on account of the absence of John Hayes, building inspector.

Councilman George Conlon informed the applicants for the permit, that he could not stop them from getting the permit but that he was not in favor of having them locate in El Cerrito as they had been run out of Alameda county and was letting them know the sentiments of the council before they spend any money in the city.

Proceedings for the improvement of a portion of Arlington Boulevard were started Monday night, when the council passed the resolution of intention for the work. The improvement will last feature of the plans, a public hearing will be held sometime in January, according to Helms.

COUNTY REPRESENTED
Deputy District Attorney Hiram E. Jacobs was present at the planning commission meeting to represent the county attorney as portions of the proposed industrial highway will lie outside the city limits.

Cost of the construction will be borne by Contra Costa and Alameda counties, together with the cities of El Cerrito, Alameda, Berkeley, Emeryville and Oakland through which the artery will run, according to present plans. The work is proposed to be done under the Matton act, which provides for the construction of inter-county highways by the formation of a joint district.

Dunn, Rheem and Hellings avenues, west of Kearney street will be closed. This was decided by the council last evening on the recommendation of the city planning commission.

The portions of the streets to be closed end at the Southern Pacific right of way, have never been used nor dedicated, and divide up the tract of land that has been purchased by the Kaiser Construction company, for its new plant in Richmond.

ceived many complaints of discourteous treatment and that the council notify the bonding company immediately.

On the recommendation of Councilman Phil A. Lee and Engineer Ross L. Calfee the council ordered a culvert constructed on Elm street between Stockton and Eureka avenues to take care of the drainage from the hill district.

On the request of City Clerk Alice Morris a $225 adding machine was purchased by the council.
